

THE ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST GREENROOM

AT THE PRIMETIME EMMY® AWARDS

The seventh consecutive Architectural Digest Greenroom at the Primetime Emmys® offered a dazzling tribute to the Awards' 60th "diamond" anniversary, from the shape of the room down to its details. AD100 interior designer Mark Boone of London Boone, Inc. mixed antiqued mirror and intricate flooring with a platinum palette of soft sheepskin and iridescent wallcovering, hinting at the gem's elemental nature. Sparkling at the center of this backstage oasis for the evening's presenters: a one-of-a-kind chandelier by Hearts On Fire, fringed with nearly 4,000 diamonds. For design notes, visit ADGreenroom.com.

©ATAS/NATAS

KEY DESIGN ELEMENTS

Furniture

Custom banquettes and stools, Palisades bench and Canyon tables by Mimi London, Inc.; Salon lounge chairs by Christian Grevstad Collection Ltd.; Centori chair and Ilef stool by Christian Astuguevieille, courtesy of Holly Hunt; custom cracked glass table by Campbell Glass

Flooring

Custom-designed inlaid hardwood floor by Birger Juell, Ltd.

Lighting

Chandelier by Hearts On Fire; rock crystal sconces by Paul Ferrante

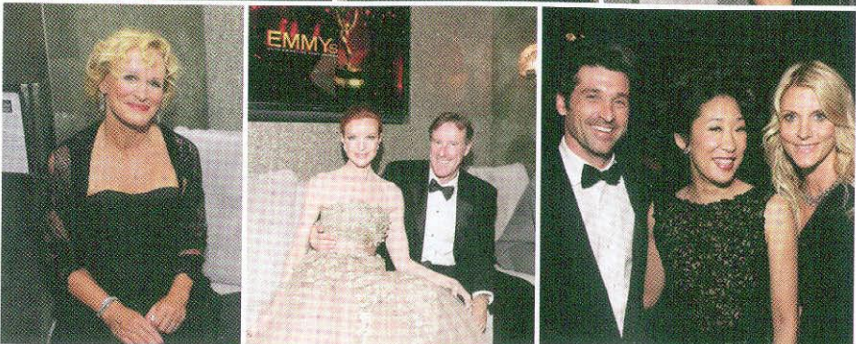

Fabrics and Wall Treatment

Betwixt fabric by Beacon Hill; Granite wallcovering by Phillip Jeffries; sheepskin by Mimi London, Inc.; mirrored walls by Campbell Glass

Televisions

Sharp AQUOS liquid crystal televisions

Special thanks to The Spiraled Stem and Vandeuren Archival Framing

CELEBRITY PHOTOS COURTESY OF MATHEW IMAGING/ATAS; GREENROOM PHOTO, MARY E. NICHOLS

▶ A VIEW OF THIS YEAR'S ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST GREENROOM AND ITS GUESTS, clockwise: Neil Patrick Harris checks out the Hearts On Fire chandelier; Alec Baldwin and Kathy Griffin toast the evening; Tony Parker and Eva Longoria Parker consult; Sandra Oh (center) with Patrick Dempsey and wife Jill Fink; Marcia Cross with husband Tom Mahoney; Glenn Close.